Engagement Overview

Scope, Objective & Approach

Client Mandate

Grow company revenue from the $484K baseline using data-driven insights.

Dataset Used

E-Commerce Sales Dataset: Transactions across 5 regions, 3 categories, 3 customer segments.

Methodology

CRISP-DM + MECE Hypothesis Framework
→ Descriptive → Diagnostic → Prescriptive Analytics.

Analytics Spectrum Applied:

Descriptive (Power BI)

Diagnostic (Python)

Predictive (Trends)

Prescriptive (Strategy)

MECE Hypothesis Framework

Three Revenue Levers Tested

H1 Geographic Optimization

Middle East & Africa and South America are under-indexed and represent untapped market expansion opportunity.

VALIDATED

H2 Pricing & Discount Elasticity

High discounts in Furniture and Technology are failing to drive volume, resulting in a net loss of revenue ('Revenue Leakage').

H3 Segment Prioritization

Corporate/Home Office segments yield higher AOV than Consumer. Data reveals the opposite — Consumers have the highest AOV at $254.76.

H3: Segment AOV Analysis — Surprising Finding

Consumers Outperform Corporate in Order Value

⚡ Key Finding

Hypothesis DISPROVED

Consumer $254.76

Highest AOV 🏆

Corporate $229.50

Mid AOV

Home Office $211.30

Lowest AOV

Implication: Redirect premium upselling and loyalty programs toward the Consumer segment.

Strategic Recommendations

Prescriptive Actions for the Sales Head

01

Localized Market Penetration

Implement DDP (Delivery Duty Paid) shipping & localized payment gateways in ME&A and South America to capture the $90K+ combined revenue gap.

+$90K potential

02

Tiered Discount Strategy

Replace flat-rate discounts with Minimum Spend Thresholds (e.g., "Free shipping above $500") to eliminate revenue leakage while protecting or improving margins.

Margin Recovery

03

Premium Consumer Loyalty Tier

Launch an "Executive Consumer" loyalty program with high-margin product bundles, capitalizing on Consumers' superior AOV of $254.76 vs. $229 (Corporate).
